how to handle the threshold?
It's now elevated a bit?

Composite decking located within the wall structure of the porch (covered by base molding of some type as in the home). Hidden fasteners.

Baseboard trim

Wall and screen above

Spacer to support and provide standoff to the decking which also allows water to drain to the exterior through a weep system from floor to exterior wall ... need to be OK with concrete slab contact so as not to "rot"

Concrete slab sloped towards the outside slightly for water drainage
